Print

A Guide to Religious Ministries is the most comprehensive directory of Catholic men’s and women’s communities in the United States. The Guide lists communities for men and women, diocesan vocation directors, lay ministry organizations, associate, Oblate, secular and other communities. Copies are requested and distributed free of charge at more than 7,000 locations in the United States and Canada including diocesan vocation offices, campus ministers, Newman centers, Catholic college career placement and counseling centers, military chaplains, retreat houses and houses of prayer, parishes, Catholic bookstores and other locations where vocation information can be utilized.

3 Regional Editions

Digital

Communities that advertise in the printed directory are featured as sponsors on ReligiousMinistries.com. Launched in 2000, this online resource has helped thousands of men and women find religious communities best suited for them. Those interested in a religious life can search our database by category (men, women, diocesan, lay etc.), community name, state or apostolic work. The site has many other features that help men and women connect with sponsor communities such as editorial links, calendar of events and a link to your print display ad.
